Little Boat

Anna Tabbush

Safe at home
And you're warm and dry
Your mother sang you
Sweet lullaby
Now the winds of change
Blowing at your heels
An adventures calling
And it's time to leave

So take your little boat
Fix your eyes on the horizon
Feel the wind filling your sails
Let it carry you out to the ocean
Though the storms may blow you off course
Keep your hands tight on the wheel
Just look to the stars to guide you
And I will be there beside you

Sailing solo
So bold and free
Your life's before you
Like the open sea
There's no need to anchor
While you're free to roam
But if you need comfort
Just remember home
